NinjaTrader Introduces Brokerage Services with Acquisition of Mirus Futures

Denver, CO, June 30, 2014 – NinjaTrader Group, LLC has announced the launch of NinjaTrader Brokerage following their acquisition of Mirus Futures. The new brokerage will leverage the best of both award winning teams to address unfulfilled traders' expectations and transform the traditional ways brokerage is conducted.

“The NinjaTrader acquisition is exciting not only for current Mirus Futures clients and users of the NinjaTrader platform, but for the futures industry as whole” stated Eliot Wickersheimer, EVP of Brokerage Operations. “Futures traders have been searching for more transparency and a ‘next generation’ user experience,” continued Wickersheimer. “With the launch of NinjaTrader Brokerage, we are now uniquely positioned to deliver on those expectations while simultaneously lowering trader costs.”

NinjaTrader and Mirus Futures have over 10 years of demonstrated growth operating as partners with a shared common goal: empower traders with outstanding service and industry leading technology. This shared goal, proven history and desire to advance the trading experience made Mirus Futures an easy selection for NinjaTrader's strategic expansion into the delivery of brokerage services.

“As the industry's leading platform provider, we have witnessed the inefficiencies of brokerage along with the resulting frustrations experienced by our traders,” stated Raymond Deux Founder and CEO of NinjaTrader. “Our dedication to providing an exceptional client experience will remain paramount within NinjaTrader Brokerage. Combined with our award winning platform and extensive Ecosystem of 400+ partners, we will provide self-directed traders with unprecedented levels of service and functionality.”

NinjaTrader Brokerage is immediately available to accept new clients with Dorman Trading as their Futures Commission Merchant (FCM). Existing users of the NinjaTrader platform do not have to make any changes to their current brokerage relationships and the transition to NinjaTrader Brokerage for existing Mirus Futures clients is completely seamless.
